Ignore Republican
Charges In House
On 'Rubber Stamp'

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders, ignoring Republican charges of "rubber stamp," press today for passage by nightfall of a $6-billion health care-Social Security bill.

Republicans concentrated their efforts on a preliminary vote, expected late today, on substituting for the bill President Johnson backs one introduced by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis.

The Byrnes bill is similar in most respects to the administration measure, but would not provide payroll tax increases to finance a hospital benefit for the aged. Instead, the bill would provide higher payments by participants and general Treasury subsidy.

Democrats, however, said they have the votes to pass the administration version overwhelmingly.

"The Congress of the United States has become a rubber stamp," Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., said Wednesday in a speech complaining that the bill had not been given adequate airing in public hearings.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, defended the bill against charges that it would impair professionalism in medical practice.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo., a physician, said it would lead to destruction of the doctor-patient relationship and overcrowding of hospitals.

But Mills said the committee had taken pains to prevent any government infringement on traditional professional practices, requiring in the bill that a private agency, such as Blue Shield, be engaged to handle relations with the medical profession.

Duties Not Revealed
Ex-Gov. Marland Joins Edwards

William Casey Marland, the youngest governor in the history of West Virginia who later became a taxi driver in Chicago, has become associated with the enterprises of James F. Edwards, owner of Waterford Park.

The 46-year-old Marland was a guest of Edwards at a dinner the track owner hosted Wednesday night at the East Liverpool Country Club.

NEITHER Marland nor Edwards had any comment on the work the dark-haired ex-governor will do. They also declined any comment on whether Marland will be employed at the track.

"He is associated with my enterprises," Edwards said. Marland added, "You have all there is."

Besides owning Waterford Park, Edwards owns several mattress factories with headquarters in Huntington, W. Va., operates Audley Farm, a horse breeding farm at Berryville, Va., and owns a large string of racing horses.

"Just a coincidence," Marland declared when it was pointed out by a reporter that he had appointed Edwards to the

Governor Bid Will Be Made By Lancione
Democratic Leader In Ohio House Is First To Announce

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A. G. Lancione, a veteran leader of Ohio House Democrats, has announced he will seek his party's nomination for governor next year.

"There is a distinct advantage in being the first candidate to announce," Lancione said of his surprise entry into the race Wednesday night. "It will give me a chance to take the stump and explain some of the things the governor is not explaining."

The energetic, 57-year-old Bellaire attorney said he decided to run for governor "on the urging of several of my friends in the firm belief that the vast majority of Ohioans are fed up with government by public relations and seek government that will truly bring the 'Great Society' to Ohio."

"I pledge to move Ohio forward in education, in industrial growth, and ask all interested in jobs and progress to join with me in making this state what we all know it can and should be."

Lancione is in his 10th consecutive two-year term in the Ohio House. He served as majority floor leader in the 1949-51 session—his second—and held the post against in the 1959-61. He was elected as minority leader in the 1963-65 session and was re-elected for the current session over Rep. Michael Sweeney of Cleveland.

As of now, the mustachioed Lancione is the only announced candidate for the governorship although it is general accepted that Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes will seek re-election. The governor was out of the city and unavailable for comment on Lancione's announcement.

State Democratic chairman William Coleman would say only that Lancione is a "most able party leader."

He said it would be unfair of him to comment further until "I know everyone who's in the race." Coleman said he knew of other Democrats who were considering running for the party's nomination, but he declined to name them.

Board Restudy Slated
State Suggests Changes In Plans For New School

The Board of Education will restudy plans for the new senior high school after several suggestions for changes were made when school officials met Wednesday in Columbus with the building section of the State Department of Education.

Asked if the plans had not been approved, a board spokesman said, "They were not disapproved, either."

The board will meet with Robert F. Beatty, architect, to discuss suggestions made by the state officials.

No date has been set for resubmission of the plans to the state officials, the board spokesman said.

The new senior high school will be erected on a tract on Maine Blvd. near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. A new North Side elementary building also will be located on the tract.

The state officials approved the plans for the North Side school and elementary buildings in the East End and LaCroft late in March.

Plans call for the North Side and East End buildings to be two-story structures with the East End building to be erected on the same tract as East Junior High.

The LaCroft school will be one-story and will be erected on a tract which the board is acquiring from Harold Dawson of Boring Ln. It will serve the Glenmoor, LaCroft and Pleasant Heights areas.

Attending yesterday's meeting were Harry D. McConville, president; Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop, vice president; Samuel W. Brown and Richard Smith, board members; Supt. Paul H. Blair, Asst. Supt. George Hargraves Jr., Carl F. Peltini, high school principal, and Beatty.

The fifth member of the board, John R. Woerner, was unable to attend.

Mutiny Of Naval Officers Reported Against Leader

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. officials claimed today that up to 200 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed Wednesday night in a major battle with Vietnamese marines in Binh Dinh Province, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

Five South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded. There were no American casualties, the Americans said.

It was the second major success claimed this week in the ground war against the Communists. U.S. officials reported Wednesday that 276 Viet Cong were killed and 33 captured in a three-day battle in the Mekong River delta 130 miles southwest of Saigon. Six Americans and 16 South Vietnamese soldiers died in that battle.

South Viet Marines Kill 200 Of Reds

In Saigon, young naval officers staged a mutiny against their commander, Adm. Chung Tan Cang, but the revolt appeared to have the approval of the government and the other South Vietnamese armed forces.

Sources in the government said Cang, a close associate of ousted strong man Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, had ignored repeated requests to resign. The mutiny therefore was not surprising, and the government was not worried, the sources said.

Air force Skyraiders were circling the city as night fell, apparently to make sure there was no trouble.

There was no shooting and no unusual troop movements in the capital.

U.S. Air Force jets and other combat planes flew 63 missions today against a suspected large Viet Cong concentration in Kontum Province, near Saigon. Results were not reported immediately.

The U.S. Navy announced that one of its 7th Fleet Skyhawk jet fighters was shot down by Communist ground fire and crashed into the sea on Wednesday's strike against transport routes in North Viet Nam. The pilot was missing and presumed killed, the Navy said.

Officials had reported earlier that all the planes participating in the strike returned safely.

The government announced it had postponed the trial of one of the terrorists who bombed the U.S. Embassy. The Viet Cong had threatened to shoot an American captive if the bomber was executed.

100 At Mass Meeting

Regulations Hit At County Home

Columbiana County's chronic controversy — the County Home — is again nearing the fever stage.

Over 100 attended a public meeting Wednesday night at the Salem Grange Hall at which recent regulations set up by county commissioners were condemned, along with a reported move to reduce or discontinue the farm operation at the home.

Max Gard, commissioner, today denied the rules and regulations were restrictive, adding such rules are required by the state and are patterned closely after similar regulations in Mahoning County.

Gard also said the commissioners — who include Gard and Frank Wilson, Democrats, and James Boyd, Republican — have not considered elimination of the farm operation at the home near Guilford Lake.

GARD SAID the commissioners have weighed the possibility of transferring the home's operation to the County Welfare Department "for efficiency."

He explained that placing the administration of the home under the welfare director would mean it would have "one boss instead of three — the commissioners."

Matching federal funds for the home's operation would also be available should the institution be closed.

New Type Experimental Anti-Cancer Drug Bared

DETROIT (AP) — Development of a new type of experimental anticancer agent — a chemical with molecular "claws" — was reported today to the American Chemical Society.

The synthetic drug has proved effective in destroying or slowing a wide variety of cancers in animals. It has yet to be proved useful in man.

It's a new form of a class of chemicals known as thiosemicarbazones, and is dubbed "KTS" for short. It has an unusual ability to pick up, or "chelate," certain trace minerals present in the body, such as copper, in a claw-like action. It apparently needs copper to give it antitumor activity.

Tests of whether it would be safe for use in man have been started in a few presumably

Offers Aid Program In Policy Talk

To Seek $1 Billion For Economic Help In Southeast Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States is ready — without preconditions — to sit down at the bargaining table with the Communists to try to negotiate an end to the war in Viet Nam.

And even before any peace talks start, the President said Wednesday night in a major foreign policy address, the United States is prepared to initiate a massive cooperative economic development program for all of Southeast Asia, including Communist North Viet Nam.

As a starter, Johnson told the nation by radio and television from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, he will ask Congress to authorize a $1-billion American investment in the program.

He proposed that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan, invited all industrialized countries including the Soviet Union to join and said he is naming a special team of prominent Americans headed by Eugene Black, former president of the World Bank, to guide U.S. participation.

But while showing the Communist world the carrot, the President did not forget the stick.

He said of U.S. involvement in the war at the side of South Viet Nam: "We will not withdraw, either openly or under the cloak of a meaningless agreement."

And while he said the United States is unconditionally ready to discuss peace, he said: "Such peace demands an independent South Viet Nam — securely guaranteed and able to shape its own relationships to all others — free from outside interference — tied to no alliance — a military base for no country."

"These are the essentials of any final settlement."

Johnson said there are many approaches to a peaceful settlement of the war, that old agreements may have to be reaffirmed or strengthened with new ones.

"We have stated this position over and over again 50 times and more to friend and foe alike," he said. "And we remain ready — with this purpose — for unconditional discussions."

The estimated 1,200 people in the university's Shriver Hall auditorium interrupted the

U.S. Likely To Take Part In Steel Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top-level basic steel negotiations continued today amid growing indications that federal mediators may take part soon to help break a deadlock.

"I expect they'll be here in a week. We're getting nowhere," said a source close to negotiations between an eight-man committee of the United Steelworkers union and a four-man team bargaining for the industry.

The source said neither side wants federal mediators or any other kind of government intervention.

However, he said, the feeling among negotiators is that the Johnson administration won't sit idly by as a strike deadline nears in an industry so crucial to the national economy.

Annexation Plan Tabled At Industry

Industry Council Wednesday night, on the advice of Solicitor Charles Barrickman and the legislative committee, tabled a request of residents of the Sunrise Hills Area of the borough for annexation with Midland.

Homer Paul, president, and chairman of the legislative committee, said the action followed several research meetings with the solicitor and after reviewing the petition for the annexation.

The motion stated that because of the limited powers vested in the Council, there is nothing it could do but table the petition "until the petitioners present some statutory foundation for, or some additional information, concerning the requested annexation."

A committee from the Sunrise Hills area has made several visits to the Council meetings concerning the annexation, and have also appeared before Midland Council.

Council also passed an ordinance accepting three additional streets as part of the borough. One is Upland Dr., located in Ohioview Estates, and the others are Beaver Ave. and Debbie Drive both in Willowview, directly opposite The Willows Motel.

The meeting was adjourned to April 20, when councilmen will continue a discussion on purchase of a new police car.

Ross Strohm, roads chairman, reported on new grading and slugging of roads in the borough. He said oiling will await dry weather. Paul presided.

But the fact that it is built by Chevrolet assures you right off it's got a lot more going for it than merely meets the eye. It tells you, for example, you can have the impetuous kind of power—6 or V8—that Chevrolet has a reputation for putting in its cars. It tells you that you get Body by Fisher handiwork inside and out. It tells you that you're going to get a ride developed by engineers who are old hands at putting the squeal on bumps.

Knowing all this, you probably won't be startled by the fact more people are now buying Chevelle than any other car its size. But you will have a happy surprise when you check what you can buy one for—right now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Saving The Two-Party System

The two-party political system in the United States is referred to semi-reverently, like home and fireside.

It should be. It is the bulwark of popular liberty.

Without a minority to challenge the majority, political dictatorship would come into existence automatically.

This possibility scares political scientists whenever an election landslide occurs. It scared them last November when the Republican party collapsed.

Here is an imminent danger rarely realized — that in the natural course of events one political party might be destroyed. That would be the ultimate folly of two-party politics.

Yet, it is the fixed purpose of both parties in elections to put the other party to rout. In the Solid South, this brought about destruction of the two-party system, with tragic consequences.

In many Northern cities, the two-party system has been destroyed with similarly tragic results. The dominant Democratic party in metropolises like New York, Chicago and Cleveland has no real opposition to put the fear of defeat into it and thus keep it on its toes.

A statement by the newly installed chairman of the Republican National Committee, Ray C. Bliss, has direct bearing on this danger. "The present weakness of the Republican party is not simply a problem for the Republicans," he told the 13th annual conference of Republican women in Washington in his first talk since taking office. "It is a problem all Americans must understand. And it is a responsibility all Americans must shoulder. The ultimate contest in which we are engaged is the defense of our traditional two-party system which, since the founding of the Republic, has furnished the flesh and blood for the raw skeleton of our constitutional system."

This is the job Mr. Bliss has tackled. His program is of special interest to all believers in two-party politics. He says Republicans must build a party which offers broad appeal, a party of awareness and concern and hope, a party that must determine and act upon pertinent issues based on realistic consideration of wants and needs rather than abstract references to ideological terms.

We think it may dawn on both Democrats and Republicans one day soon that this Ohioan with the solid record of political performance is vastly more than just one more professional politician hopeful of winning an election.

Ray Bliss is trying to save the two-party system by giving Americans a Republican party they can believe in.

The Ivory Hunt Is Under Way

On college campuses all over the land and especially the campuses of the top-rated schools, the greatest ivory hunt in history is under way.

It will continue until the hunters have run down and interviewed every likely prospect for their employers—the leading corporations and companies of the United States.

And who are the likely prospects?

They are 1965 graduates who have something special to qualify them for jobs. This may be vocational training in some instances. Educators sometimes call this a career program, meaning that a student learns how to do a specific thing, instead of acquiring a background of general learning.

But not all the graduates who will be lined up by ivory hunters will be "trade college" graduates. Many will be students who have distinguished themselves in liberal arts courses—graduates with a background of general learning.

And above the undergraduate level will be graduate school students who have earned advanced degrees. They will be of special interest to the ivory hunters.

Jobs will be hunting these students. They can name their own terms.

Jobs are hunting skilled people. This is one of the curiosities of an era in which unemployment remains high though job totals never were higher.

Unemployment is nonexistent among the skilled. But gone forever is the labor market for unskilled people. The machine has replaced muscle labor in the United States, unemployed and unemployable.

Sounds Like A Capital Idea

Could it be that President Johnson has inked something in his farm plan that could grow into the biggest policy breakthrough of his administration?

If the federal government could quit paying so much subsidy money to agriculture, he has explained to Congress in connection with proposals to ease off on certain agricultural programs, it could use the money saved to better effect on other programs designed to get rid of some causes of farm poverty.

This might cause a boost in food prices as processors took steps to recover additional costs. Food consumers would end up with a higher cost of eating, but this would be no great hardship on them. And if some of the extra money found its way into the pockets of food producers, this would be a benefit for the producers.

The idea behind this would seem to be that government should not underwrite the cost of eating. The idea is in harmony with the strongly held conviction of old-fashioned farmers, who have insisted for years that foodstuffs and fibers should be sold in a free market, with neither price nor production controls.

If the idea caught on—if Washington embraced the thought that it is not government's responsibility to guarantee anyone a price for anything—all sorts of things might happen.

Enterprises that lean on government would have to learn to walk by themselves. Guaranteed returns for performing government work would be eliminated. Every subsidy, no matter by what sweeter name it might be known, would come under scrutiny.

In fact, that very thing is said to have been proposed by Vice President Humphrey—a blue-ribbon federal commission to study the entire problem of federal subsidies.

Far from being eager to expand government control, the former senator from Minnesota seems to be interested in getting rid of some of it.

Purely Personal

First of all, let's get one thing out of the way. I do not like to be put on guard by effusive telephone greetings when I call a business establishment. It sounds patronizing, the same way it sounds when a filling station attendant calls me, "Sir." Say Hello and let's get on with it, huh?

I never read "Das Kapital" by Karl Marx, but I know why the Commies can be counted on to do something annoying. They worry about their image, too. The rest of us want to be loved. They want to be feared.

The difference between going to college a few years ago and going there now is that I hustled home for spring vacation and picked a up week's work, but today the boys go to Florida to live it up before tackling the final weeks of the old grind.

Nothing ever is too bad to say about scoundrels we elect to public office, because we ascribe to them all the evil we find in ourselves. They are modern man's scapegoats.

The cardinals we watch build their nests in a dense section of a multiflora hedge — out of sight and out of reach. They go in one circuitous route and come out another, moving from twig to twig as though they had a guide-book.

If Nice Nellies and Fearful Freds would quit fussing about books they think should be kept out of the hands of other people, the books would be forgotten and find their rightful place in the scheme of things, usually on a bottom shelf, perhaps the trash bin.

I bristle at the bland supposition that working mothers cause juvenile delinquency. This strikes me as a silliness that cannot be proved and is kept in circulation by stupid people who never think about what they are saying.

Somewhere is a law to stop everything — progress, freedom, enlightenment. The trick is to keep obstructionists from misusing law to make good things unlawful.

The best line on what appears to be gross mismanagement of the South Viet Nam war project is Russell Baker's thought that somewhere in the Pentagon is a cuckoo clock with the ghosts of Laurel and Hardy — and that South Viet Nam policy comes from the clock.

A current "discovery" about lawmakers is that some are bankrolled by labor unions and are, in truth, lobbyist-lawmakers. So what else is new? Certainly not lobbyist-lawmakers bankrolled by employers, since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

A disenchanted schoolteacher in the Minneapolis suburb turning in his chalk box because teen-agers seem to him to be a badly mixed-up lot could start an exodus if all teachers who feel the same way could afford to get it off their chests.

This is the time of year when experts talk about better ways to collect the federal income tax, but nothing ever is done. The tax is the same obscure complexity year after year, and this year even President Johnson says he had to borrow money to get Sam off his back.

The world's most expensive fabric that is marketed is gold guipure lace, which retails in London in widths of only 18 inches at about $151 per yard.

Carson City, Nevada, with a population of about 3,100, is the smallest state capital in the United States. It has served as the Nevada capital since 1861, three years after the town was founded as a frontier trading post.

Scattershot Isn't The Answer

Chicago Judge Gives Labor New Look

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO — If anyone is searching for the hero of a saga which could be titled the In-Corruptibles, the man can be found in this city of the untouchables.

Eight months ago this man, Maurice Perlin by name, was chief justice of the Illinois State Court of Claims. Today he is a labor leader. After almost five years on the bench he left voluntarily to become president of one of the nation's biggest local unions.

Ministers and priests have led labor, as have lawyers and matinee idols — but never before anywhere in the world has a chief justice of an important court stepped down to become a union official.

Judge "Maury" Perlin did. Thus he now is among the handful of the new breed who will some day replace the elders, who wonder where they can find the man to meet the new unionism needed for the age of space and automation.

Now 51 years old, Perlin is president of the unique and huge 30,000-member Local 1031, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

PERLIN GAVE UP the security and peace of the bench for the turbulence of the labor front because he has a touch of the missionary in him.

For years he had worked closely with his late predecessor Frank (Flo Ziegfeld) Darling as legal counsel and mentor of the thousands of men and women whose skills sped much of the electronic equipment to America's defense forces during the big war and the Korean conflict.

Because of the union's strategic position in the electrical field, and because it is the largest local in the Midwest, and because it could play a powerful role if ever captured by mobsters or subversive forces, Darling and Perlin always were on the alert for intruders and infiltrators.

Of course, the Communists attempted to move in. The party used its best operatives. They worked their way into membership. They would come to meetings and put on talkathons in an effort to weary the rank and file and to keep them away from future decision-making gatherings.

DARLING AND Perlin then hit on the stratagem of extravaganzas. They put on big-time musical shows. They got Jimmy Durante and Ethel Merman to cavort and sing at the meetings. The union soon became as newsworthy in Variety as in the labor press.

The membership poured out to the meetings in such numbers that sessions had to be run over two and three nights. The Communists were beaten.

But the musicals still run on. Even today Local 1031 is the only union which runs meetings on Saturday nights.

In a city where thugs machine-gunned their way into unions and would collect bribes in open umbrellas, Local 1031 remained clean and progressive — concerned over the prosperity of its members' employers as well as with its members' welfare.

When the union's 46,000 followers fell to 30,000, Darling and his lawyer, Perlin, fought the trend by battling for the inflow of government orders and against the inflow of foreign competition from Japan and West Germany.

THE MOMENT came when Perlin moved into other fields — and in 1960 he was named chief justice of the Court of Claims.

Last August Frank Darling died in a Houston hospital, after serious surgery. The union executive board called an emergency meeting. They elected Judge Perlin president and then went to him with their offer.

The leadership of labor was a challenge. He resigned from the bench. On March 7, he stood for office in the general election and was overwhelmingly chosen.

Today Perlin is training his staff in the new unionism. He has called in government experts to teach labor law, psychology and the techniques of peaceful collective bargaining. He has called on the industry to take the lead in working with labor on special projects.

HE HAS CALLED on his own labor colleagues to study the results of the latest electronic research in universities as well as federal and private space laboratories — so that the union can help the industry prosper and create more jobs.

"Research and development of new products can be pushed forward by our people," he has said. "This could mean new profit for management and new jobs for our members."

"It's the most effective method of preventing further loss of business to foreign competition. If we can't meet their abysmal wage rates and low cost production we can beat them with better products and new ones. We can work together."

Obviously Judge Perlin has remained undiscovered too long.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—John O'Brien was installed as master councilor of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

New Cumberland's proposed new charter, reducing the personnel of council and providing for office merging to decrease the cost of government, was approved by 69 votes at a special election—265 to 196.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Nate Lorah, faculty manager of athletics at East Liverpool High School, announced that after a lapse of about 20 years East Liverpool and Chester would meet on the basketball court.

Two Republican office holders—City Treasurer Bert Dawson of East Liverpool and Councilman W. J. Haugh of Wellsville — became candidates for nomination to new terms at the July primaries.

James R. Manley, a member of Boy Scout Troop 33 of the Grant St. Civic League, was promoted to Life Scout.

TEN YEARS AGO — Karen Leatherberry, eighth-grade MacDonald School student, won the title of "champion speller" of Wellsville during a contest in the Daw Junior High School.

Not 3 Of A Kind

East African fossil beds have yielded evidence that three entirely different kinds of prehistoric men were existing there alongside one another in the remote past.

To the anthropologist, the finds suggest that nature was experimenting with various primitive hominids. The least capable died out. A superior stock led to present-day man.

British anthropologist Louis S. B. Leakey announced the new finds made in Olduvai Gorge, Tanzania, during a special symposium April 2 at the University of Chicago.

Many of the new discoveries that are upsetting old textbooks have come from Dr. Leakey and his wife. Their work is supported by the National Geographic Society.

At Olduvai, the world's richest known fossil site, they have found fossils of the near-man Zinjanthropus and a more humanlike species called Homo habilis. The oldest fossils representing these two creatures have been dated 1,750,000 and nearly 2,000,000 years ago, respectively.

Road To Lasting Peace

By David Lawrence

Proper Time For Talks Is Vital

Demands that the government of the United States sue for peace in Viet Nam are coming not only from hostile sources but from various foreign governments which profess to be "non-aligned," though they are really on the Communist side. They imply that the United States should say now that it will agree to a cease-fire even without achieving its aims in the Viet Nam war.

There are, indeed, some influential persons in and out of public life who are speaking along the same line. They are doing a distinct disservice, however, to the very cause they believe they are supporting — namely, the ending of the war and the making of peace in Southeast Asia.

What seems to be overlooked is that, when a nation is at war, it doesn't tell its adversary what weapons it intends to use, what areas it plans to attack or exactly how long it intends to continue the fight.

Certainly during World War II there were very few voices raised demanding that the government of the United States sue for peace. President Roosevelt and the Allies insisted on a complete defeat of the enemy before any negotiations would be begun.

The United States today is engaged in a war which already has cost many American lives, and it's important that these sacrifices shall not have been in vain.

THE OBJECT of America in Viet Nam is to repel aggression — just as was the case in Korea in 1950. Gen. Douglas MacArthur did not tell the enemy that he would make a major attack at Inchon. Indeed, the enemy later got encouragement only through diplomatic channels when it found out that some of the Western European countries had insisted that the United States should not bomb the bases in Red China from which troops, planes and supplies were coming regularly to resist U. N. forces in Korea.

President Johnson is pursuing the right course in fighting the battle to a decisive point. Everybody knows that the United States will, of course, sit down at the peace table some day, just as it has done with adversaries in the past, but the decision as to when any move shall be made to begin a peace negotiation is a very crucial one.

If initiated at the wrong time, it could be construed as meaning that the United States was giving up the fight. It could be misinterpreted for years to come as a sign that the United States, after entering a war to help a smaller country protect itself against aggressors, got discouraged and bowed to the enemy.

The Communists are watching American public opinion closely. Every time they read an article in the newspapers voicing a "peace - at - any - price" sentiment, the Communists get encouragement.

They doubtless believe that, if they can keep the harassment going in Viet Nam, the United States will tire of the whole affair, yield to pacifistic elements and enter a peace negotiation.

TO DISCUSS peace under such circumstances would doom any pact that might be signed. The agreement would be disregarded at will by the enemy, because if the United States has failed to attain its military aims, the impression will prevail that attacks can be resumed at any time with impunity.

There are those observers who would like to have the United States spell out now in detail exactly what its plans are, not only for carrying on the war in Viet Nam but for the conference that inevitably will be called when America has achieved its objectives.

To keep the enemy guessing is in itself a way to wage war. It's not customary for any sensible government either to tell its military plans or to prescribe its conditions of peace, except in the most general terms.

Both in World War I and World War II, the United States proclaimed the general principles of a worthwhile peace treaty, but insisted first on a military victory. When this was won, it was the Allies who dictated the terms of peace, and the enemy signed on the dotted line.

Exactly such a process now could mean a durable peace in Asia. But it is necessary, first of all, to win an advantageous military position and demonstrate that America not only possesses the power but is willing to use it for a worthy purpose — to preserve the independence of the weaker nations of the world.

THE LESSON is important also in any future activities of the United Nations. If that organization is to become an international force to keep the peace, it, too, must be able to mobilize the necessary military forces to punish aggressors and to insist upon achieving its objectives.

President Johnson is having plenty of problems in fighting the Viet Nam war itself but apparently he is also finding it difficult, because of misguided voices at home, to present the image of a united front to the enemy.

When the American people are behind their government during a war, the military goals can be attained and the enemy brought to terms. This is the only road to an enduring peace.

Johnson Takes Softer Line

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — It is President Johnson who is pleading for a discussion to end the fighting in Southeast Asia, not the North Vietnamese who have been bombed for two months by American planes in an effort to pressure them into seeking peace.

They've endured the battering and given no public indication of asking peace.

In making his plea, in a nationwide broadcast from Baltimore Wednesday night, Johnson took a softer line than his administration has been following since Feb. 7 when Red guerrillas attacked an American air base and Johnson ordered bombing.

This shift in position came one day after The Associated Press reported 50 per cent of the people in South Viet Nam are sitting on the fence, supporting neither their American-backed government nor the Red guerrillas.

In his broadcast Johnson offered $1 billion in American aid for Southeast Asian economic development, saying he hoped North Viet Nam would join in the cooperative effort as soon as "peaceful cooperation is possible."

The two Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, took a dim view of this economic offer from Johnson.

Earlier this year, after the bombing of North Viet Nam had begun, they denounced suggestions of seeking peace through negotiations with the Communists. They said such a move would be "running up the white flag."

Wednesday night they derided Johnson's offer of $1 billion in aid as an attempt to buy peace in Asia.

In taking this position Wednesday night Johnson was actually accepting an appeal made April 1 by the heads of 17 nonaligned states for immediate negotiations "without any precondition" for a solution to the war.

(At the time they made the proposal Rusk was reported by authoritative sources as informing the group that peace in Viet Nam could be restored "very quickly" if Communist aggression ceased.)

The only condition that Johnson suggested Wednesday night was that there should be no precondition.

But, while he is seeking to persuade the Reds to start talking, the American government is making great effort to persuade the people of South Viet Nam to support their government, which the United States is fighting for.

The Red guerrillas are estimated to have the support of about 8 per cent of the South Vietnamese, the South Vietnamese government about 40 per cent. That leaves roughly 50 per cent refusing to support one side or the other.

To win them over, this country is distributing 200,000 small transistor radios among them and beaming a barrage of broadcasts at them, which also means propaganda.

Oak Glen PTA Elects, Seats Officers For 1965-66 Term

Officers for 1965-66 were elected and installed at a meeting of the Oak Glen Parent-Teacher Association at the high school Tuesday night.

George Vukas was named president; Mrs. Virginia Nameth, first vice president; Mrs. Mabel Wagner, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Taylor, secretary, and Joseph Endry, treasurer.

Mrs. Claudius Ford, Hancock County PTA Council president, conducted the installation and presented the outgoing officers with inscribed bookmarks. Vukas presented the past president's pin to Mrs. Edward Hupp who, serving in the 1964-65 term, was the first Oak Glen PTA president.

E. Russell Slack, administrative principal of the school, was awarded a state life membership by Mrs. Hupp. This award provides a scholarship of $500 to a student attending a West Virginia college, and is renewable for three years, so that a total of $2,000 may be received. Several Oak Glen students have applied for the scholarship.

Mrs. Hupp presented a new pin to Joseph Endry, assistant co-ordinator at Oak Glen, with the explanation that although he had received a life membership at New Cumberland, they wished to express their appreciation for his work with the students.

Harry M. West explained the use of the Little Theater and how various staging levels can be used. He introduced Bud Hall, a senior, who is working on an independent research project in the production of the musical, "Meet Me In St. Louis." Hall displayed models of sets and scenery he built in preparation for the production. The musical will be given in the Oak Glen Little Theater May 20-22.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ann Jester and Mrs. Ann Cawthon.

PTA Fills Posts At Highlandtown

The Highlandtown Parent-Teacher Association elected Robert Seigler president at a meeting Monday night at the school near Wellsville.

Other officers for next term are Scott Randolph, vice president; Mrs. Jean Sandoe, secretary and Mrs. Charlene Sargent, treasurer. George Williams, president, conducted business.

1,759 Given Notice Voting Rights At End

The Hancock County voter registration office has mailed notices to 1,759 persons that their names are being removed from the voter registration records of the County Clerk's office for failure to vote in recent elections.

Mrs. Mercedes Beatty, registrar in the office of George Konchar, county clerk, said the notices were sent to persons who have not voted at least once since the general election of November 1960.

She explained that the law states that persons who have not voted in a period in which there were two primary and two general elections are no longer eligible.

The mailing marks the first time in recent years that the county clerk has notified persons that their names are being dropped.

Instructions for reinstatement accompanied the notices. Persons who received notices and still reside at the same address listed on their old registration, Mrs. Beatty said, may appear at the registration office in the Courthouse or before a notary public, sign the reinstatement slip and mail the slip to the Courthouse at New Cumberland.

Persons whose address has changed must appear in person at the registration office to fill out a new application.

Those who wish to be reinstated must bring their notices when they appear at the registration office or before a notary.

The registration office is open from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., including the noon hour, on weekdays, and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

Persons who have not voted since the general election of 1960, but have not received notices, should contact the registration office concerning their status, Mrs. Beatty aid.

As of last November's general election, Hancock County had a total of 23,190 eligible voters. Of these, 15,496 were Democrats, 7,625 Republicans, and 68 others.

speech 15 times with applause. Mrs. Johnson studied her husband intently; Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey beamed his approval.

With them on the platform were Mrs. Humphrey and the Johnsons' daughters, Lynda and Luci. All motored the 40 miles from the capital by limousine when overcast skies forced cancellation of a planned helicopter flight.

In New York a spokesman for Thant said the secretary-general planned to study the speech carefully and would have some comment this morning.

On Capitol Hill, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, heretofore a staunch supporter of the Democratic President's Viet Nam policy, was critical. "Is this another case of where the American trumpets sound retreat?" he asked. "Do you buy freedom for a humble people? I doubt it."

But the Senate Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield, at times in disagreement with the White House over Viet Nam, said: "The door is open to a bona fide settlement which will permit the people of Viet Nam to live in peace and freedom."

There was no immediate public reaction behind the Iron Curtion be part of the welfare department, he added.

At the meeting last night, Frank Murray of Route 172 near the home, a farmer and former director of the Farm Bureau, was elected chairman of a committee to study the home proposals and the rules and to meet with the commissioners.

Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Knox Township was named secretary, and Ben Weingart of Leontonia R. D., a farmer and former county Board of Education member, was chosen vice chairman.

Three others were to be added to the committee, it was announced.

AT THE meeting, attended primarily by farmers, the recently approved regulations were criticized as too restrictive.

One spokesman said it is felt the rules are "not fair to the superintendent."

Supt. Russell Phillis, 44, originally from Salem, has headed the home operation for seven years.

At present, there are 112 residents at the home for which the commissioners have set up a budget of $139,000 for 1965, plus $27,000 for the new nursing facility. Last year, a budget of $252,000 was set, of which $189,000 was spent.

The new $350,000 nursing facility, built with 50 per cent federal funds, is completed, but not in operation because furnishings have not been obtained. Bids are due April 22 for furnishings.

THE FARM has 130 head of cattle for milk and beef and also produces vegetables and fruit, all of which is either consumed on the farm or sold.

In the May primary a 65 hundredths-mill levy is up for consideration to provide funds for operation of the home. A 7-mill levy for the home, the first in county history, expires this year.

The operation of the home and various proposals to revise the home program have been a subject of controversy for a number of years.

Wilson, of Wellsville, feuded with Supt. Phillis during a previous term as commissioner.

and has been critical of Phillis' handling of administration since returning to office in 1964.

Freeman Strabley of Salineville has been hired by commissioners as a cost accountant, and is currently completing a cost survey of the home and its farm operation in order to determine the financial structure.

PHILLIS HAS maintained the farm is operated without expense to taxpayers, and last year brought in over $12,000.

Gard declared the commissioners have no thought of eliminating the farm, but have been considering decreasing its operations.

"We do not want the county institution in competition with private farmers," Gard said.

"The declining use of farms with such institutions elsewhere can be seen in reports from all over the nation," he continued.

"We don't want to eliminate the farm, it has a therapeutic value for those at the home," Gard said. "But we have to consider whether it is actually efficient in all aspects of the farm operation and whether a better and more efficient home operation can't be made available."

"That's why we feel obligated as representing all the taxpayers in studying the transfer to the welfare department and getting more funds for the whole farm," he concluded.

STRABLEY said his report should be ready for presentation to the commissioners in about a week.

Criticism of the home's administration by the commissioners brought a "march" by a number of farmers upon the Courthouse about five years ago.

Gard said 1,000 copies of the new home regulations have been printed and will be available this week.

PEP PLAN FOR EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS

Sponsored by 800,000 Ohio Citizens

THE PEP PLAN, HB 46, RELIEVE THE TAX BURDEN ON LOCAL PROPERTY OWNERS

Local property taxes are paying more and more for public schools percentagewise. The state is paying less and less.

The program would be financed by a 1% increase in the sales tax (1c on the dollar). The fairest way to raise the funds — no tax on food, drugs, or rent. Bond issues cost millions in interest — the sales tax is pay as you go.

After U.S. Army Challenge

Highway Closed Again, Reopened

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists closed the Berlin autobahn for three hours today. They reopened it one hour after a U.S. Army convoy challenged the blockade.

There was no way of learning immediately whether the barricades were lifted because of the U.S. challenge or whether the Communists had planned a shutdown of only three hours. That was the length of the closure Wednesday.

The U.S. convoy was being processed at the Communist checkpoints for the trip to West Berlin when all traffic was allowed to resume.

Today was the fourth successive day the Communists had closed the autobahn.

Backed by the Soviets, East German guards at 9 a.m. closed the steel barriers at each end of the superhighway between West Berlin and West Germany. They lifted them three hours later.

In the interim at 11 a.m., a 22-vehicle U.S. Army convoy drove up to the Helmstedt checkpoint, at the West German end, and its commander demanded to be allowed through. The Soviets held it up for 20 minutes, then waved it into the half-mile-long checkpoint for processing by East German guards.

The Reds reopened the autobahn while the convoy was still being checked.

The West Berlin end of the highway was reopened at the same time, freeing a small U.S. truck convoy which had traveled 14 miles from West Berlin toward West German territory when the autobahn was closed. That convoy contained three trucks and six men.

The United States protested to Soviet officials at the West Berlin end of the autobahn and "demanded that the United States convoy be allowed to proceed," a statement from the U.S. mission in Berlin said.

The statement said despite this demand, the smaller convoy was held up "in clear violation of the Western Allies' unrestricted access rights to Berlin."

"United State authorities are holding the Soviets responsible for any consequences of this action," the statement concluded.

The fourth successive shutdown of the autobahn came a day after the Berlin meeting of the Bundestag, the lower house of the West German Parliament.

The four-hour Bundestag session Wednesday was the first to take place in West Berlin in seven years.

During the meeting swarms of Soviet jet fighters roared over the city, firing blanks and buzzing the meeting hall. They also buzzed Berlin airports and planes flying in the air corridors.

Most of the 400 Bundestag members were flying through the corridors in commercial airliners today to get back to the West German capital of Bonn. Since the harassment began, the East Germans have refused to let them use the land routes.

The harassment of road and air traffic to and from Berlin was generally considered an expression of Communist displeasure with the Bundestag meeting in territory they say is not West German. But the Communists said their restrictions were made necessary by East German and Soviet military maneuvers in the area, and apparently they were continuing to interfere with traffic to support this position.

The maneuvers are scheduled to continue until Monday.

The United States fired off a sharp protest Wednesday night against the harassment of air and ground traffic into Berlin.

Acting Secretary of State George W. Ball delivered the protest to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in Washington.

Lisbon Lions Benefit Sale Planned May 28

LISBON — The Lions Club Wednesday night set its Cracker Jack sale on the village streets May 28 and named John Varner chairman, with Thomas Gallo, William Hiscox Jr. and James Horger committeemen.

Charles Bush, president, reported that the district meeting will be held April 24 at Canton. Officers will be elected Wednesday at the Lions cottage and Roy Lewis of Louisville, junior deputy governor, will install the new officers at the meeting April 21.

The club will prepare 90 dozen eggs for the annual Easter egg hunt scheduled April 17 at the Columbiana County Fair grounds. There will also be a greased pig catching contest.

Man Cites 'Pills' Following Arrest For Intoxication

"I was high on pills, not from drinking," an East End man told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today before he was remanded to County Jail in default of a fine of $100 and costs on an intoxication charge filed under state law.

Harry Hurst was arraigned on an affidavit signed by his father, Curtis Hurst of Mulberry St., with whom he resides. The charge alleged the offense occurred Wednesday.

The son pleaded guilty to the intoxication charge and then added the remark about "pills." Queried by the court, he said he works at a resort in the Pocono Mountains in the summer and resides with his parents in the off-season.

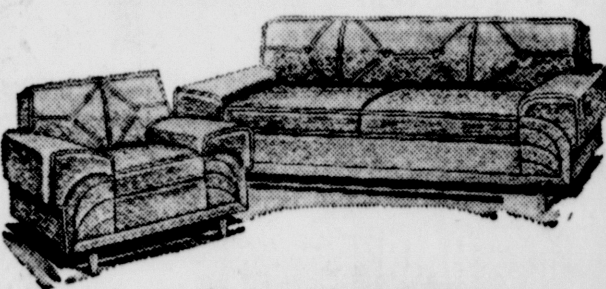

The judge also called the parents to the bench for a conference. The father told the court that his son "has been breaking up stuff and I stood it as long as I could." After imposing the fine and ordering Hurst to the County Jail, the judge said: "That will give your parents some peace for at least a month and a half."

Fred Forbes of Xenia, a former Wellsville resident, is serving as a project engineer in a new concept being developed in the aero-space program.

He and others are testing an idea for an expandable structure that can be compressed into a small package. With the release of explosive bolts, the package will open into the familiar space vehicle shape.

Forbes is working on the project at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Forbes of Dayton, former residents of 17th St., Wellsville. His mother is the former Phyllis McCullough of East Liverpool. An architect, he is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati.

WVU's King Takes Purdue Cage Post

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — George King, a .700 winner at West Virginia, moved into a .500 situation as head basketball coach at Purdue and started assessing Boilermaker prospects today.

King, 36, former National Basketball Association player who won 102 games and lost 43 in five years as coach of the Mountaineers, was named to succeed Ray Eddy at Purdue Wednesday night.

Eddy stepped out as coach a month ago after 15 seasons, during which the Boilermakers won 176 games and lost 164. They broke even last season at 12-12 but were only 5-9 in the Big Ten.

King said his contract calls for "more than one year," but its duration and his salary were not disclosed. Eddy's salary was $15,000 a year.

King's first task, checking over next year's prospects with Saxon and Bob King, was a pleasant one.

He inherits three starters — 6-foot-4 Dave Schellhase, the nation's fourth highest scorer with a 29.3 average last season; 6-7 Doug Trudeau, who improved rapidly late in the season, and 6-1 Bob Griesse, a defensive standout.

King almost got Schellhase three years ago. Schellhase nar-

Oak Glen Gains 2nd Cinder Win

Oak Glen, paced by junior Jim Gracie and sophomore Rich Everly rolled to its second straight track victory and remained in a two-way tie for first place in the Steel Valley League with a 99-58 rout over Weirton Madonna Wednesday at Wellsburg.

The victory leaves Oak Glen and Pollansbee tied with 2-0 records for first place in the league.

Gracie won two first place spots and ran a leg on the winning mile relay team. He was timed in 10.4 in the 100-yard dash and won the 440 by lowering his time to 53.4.

Everly captured the 220 in 24.1 was second in the broad jump and anchored both winning sprint relay teams.

Other first for Oak Glen was picked up by Tim Stover who threw the discus 117 feet, 3 inches, Bill Spencer who measured 38 feet, 8½ inches in the shot put, Dave Gamble who went nine feet in the pole vault, Marv Six cleared 5 feet, 4 inches in the high jump while Jack Ring won the mile in 4:57.

Coach Bob Starkey's 440-yd. relay team won in 46.7 and the 880 team in 1:38. Both teams were composed of Kell, Ferguson, Gamble and Everly.

The shuttle hurdle team of Thayer, Smith, Clark and Forsythe were clocked in 1:04.2.

Presley was the big run for Madonna winning three events

Shaffer-Amo Game Opens Tournament

Shaffer's Trucking, the 1963 champion, will face Amo's Esso (Geneva College) in the opening game of the 40th Tri-State Tournament Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Four games will be played on opening night in the short field of eight teams, providing four semi-finalists for Saturday night's action.

The Shaffer's Amo's tipoff is scheduled for 7 p. m.

Mohawk Tire of Akron will meet World Book & Bible of East Liverpool in the 8 p. m. game.

Auto Body Supply, which has been stamped the pre-tourney favorite, will tackle Our Company Garage of Salineville at 9 p. m. with a strong Joe's All-Star entry of Akron facing Uncle Pete's of Wellsville in the finale at 10.

Only eight teams, the smallest field in the long history of the tournament, has entered this year.

Auto Body and Shaffer's, the two finalists at Wellsville along with Joe's All-Stars appear to be the leading candidates for the 1965 crown.

Auto Body has Duquesne's Willie Somerset on its roster along with his teammates Willie Ross and Dennis Cuff. In addition to the Duquesne players, the Auto five shows Red Jones, of Youngstown U. fame, Mickey Yugovich, Frank Fisk and Herbe Lake along with Jim Robertson and Jim Gardner former freshmen players at Ohio State.

Shaffer's will field a team of ex-Kent State and Akron stars while Joe's has a lineup of Akron Goodyear players.

Semi-finals and finals will be played Saturday night.

Howell Leads Baltimore In Playoff Win

BALTIMORE (AP) — The pressure didn't bother Bailey Howell. He was so relaxed, he was floating.

After undergoing intensive treatment and taking pills to relax his back muscles, the veteran Baltimore cornerman led the Bullets to a 122-115 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday night.

Although he was a doubtful starter until two hours before gametime, Howell scored 29 points and grabbed 17 rebounds and survived 40 minutes of punishing basketball without further aggravating his old back injury.

The come-from-behind triumph gave Baltimore its first victory in the National Basketball Association's best-of-7 Western Division final playoff. The Lakers had taken the first two games of the series in Los Angeles.

Baltimore and Los Angeles take a breather tonight, but the Eastern Division final resumes in Boston with the defending champion Celtics entertaining the Philadelphia 76ers in a series tied 1-1.

A muscle spasm in pre-game practice kept Howell out of the second game against Los Angeles.

Howell sank 10 of 20 field goal attempts and led both teams in rebounding Wednesday during a rough contest in which 65 fouls were called.

Jerry West, the phenomenal backcourt star of the Lakers, put on another dazzling show with 44 points.

Pilgrim Cracks Mile Mark But ELHS Falls

A new school record in the mile run was the lone bright spot in East Liverpool's 112-16 track defeat at the hands of a whirlwind team from Steubenville Big Red Wednesday over the Harding Stadium track.

Senior Jon Pilgrim turned the mile in 4:33.5 to better a mark of 4:37.8 set by Warren Lincoln in 1959. Pilgrim also finished second in the 880-yard run with a clocking of 2:08.5 to better a mark of 4:37.8 set by Warren Lincoln in 1959. ## President To Get Season Pass To Baseball Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — American League President Joe Cronin planned to visit the White House today to give President Johnson a season pass and invite him to toss out the first ball on opening day.

Cronin is carrying out a tradition begun more than one-half century ago by his late father-in-law, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington baseball team.

Presumably, Johnson will defer to tradition and be on hand Monday when the Senators open the American League season against the Boston Red Sox. But there has been no announcement so far.

Tebbetts Set On Team For Opening Day

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland Indians Manager Birdie Tebbetts isn't saying until Friday, but insiders at the Tribe spring training camp believe that Monday's opening day lineup will be:

Tebbetts probably will play Hinton at first and Larry Brown at second if the Indians face a lefthander, with Brown batting Whitfield's seventh position in the batting order.

Tebbetts is expected to platoon Brown and Whitefield through the first month of the season. It's also likely he'll rest Wagner occasionally.

Several of the Indians may get a little extra work before the opener, however. After the Indians' 8-5 loss to the Chicago Cubs Wednesday, Tebbetts said:

"The thing that bothered me was a lot of little mistakes. I don't want to single anybody out, but we'll get together in the morning and do a little extra work on those things in the next couple of days."

Tebbetts was referring to some defensive lapses which he thinks hurt his two bullpen aces, Gary Bell and Don McMahon. The Cubs scored in every inning but the third and seventh.

The Tribe trailed all the way. They collected 11 hits, including three by Rocky Colavito and a homer by Brown.

The Indians play the San Francisco Giants today at Tucson.

'Boating-est' Year Ever Due

By KEN MCCREARY
By The Associated Press

The "boating-est" year ever—that's the 1965 prospect for Ohio.

During the next seven months more Ohioans than ever before (over a million of us) will be heading for fun afloat, many thousands will be fishing, other thousands water - skiing, still others exploring or boat-camping, while thousands more will be just plain relaxing as they enjoy the easy - going aquatic sport.

The booming boating trend is the same across the country. An annual report by the Outboard Boating Club of America for 1964 shows that 38.5 million persons took to the nation's waterways in 7.7 million boats of every size and description. They invested $2.6 billion for new and used boats and motors, marine accessories and services.

HERE IN Buckeye Country, there are plenty of statistics to prove that boating is big—and growing. Paul Sarossy, chief of the Ohio Division of Watercraft, notes there were 150,415 watercraft registered in the state during 1964, ranging from tiny prams and canoes to plush yachts almost 100 feet long. This year the experts predict there will be almost 160,000 craft plying the lakes, rivers and waterways of Ohio, including almost 2,000 belonging to out-of-staters.

A breakdown of boat registrations reveals, understandably, that the greatest numbers are concentrated in those counties with big population and available water areas.

Cuyahoga County (including Cleveland) ranks first with 15,620 boats and 14,442 outboard motors. Second is Franklin County, which registered 11,980 boats and 11,771 motors. Third place is claimed by Summit County, with 9,333 boats and 8,398 outboards. Fourth is Lucas County, with 8,379 watercraft and 7,325 motors, followed by Montgomery County, where 8,275 boats and 8,461 motors were registered. Stark County finished sixth, with Hamilton County seventh.

Little Noble County ranks last, with only 89 boats and 87 motors.

The total number of outboard motors registered in the Buckeye State during the coming year is expected to rise only fractionally to around 143,500, placing Ohio sixth among all the states.

WHY ISN'T the number of outboard motors matching the rapid rise in the number of boats? According to watercraft boss Sarossy, this isn't any indication that more folks are rowing for exercise, but is caused by many new boats having self-contained power units, plus rising popularity of sail-boating.

Where do Ohioans head when they go "out to launch?" The answer depends on whether the skipper is out for fishing, pleasure-cruising or water skiing. Whether you go afloat on Lake Erie, or on one of the hundreds of inland lakes and waterways, you have one distinct advantage—your boat and motor licenses are valid statewide and permit you to use any public waters in the state.

The Ohio River is another story—by law, it belongs to the neighboring states of Kentucky and West Virginia, and you must observe their boating regulations. Ohio does have reciprocal agreements with 45 other states, including all those which border us, which permit you to boat on their waters without buying their licenses for at least 90 days.

AS THE boating boom builds, it unfortunately follows that the number of mishaps afloat also rises. Many watercraft officials, including those in our state, are frankly worried. Ohio and many other states are preparing to launch extensive campaigns to educate boaters to use safety, courtesy and caution at all times. In fact, many experts forecast the day will come when boat owners will be required to take "driving" tests, just like motorists.

What about the future? Will we be running out of available water to accommodate all kinds of boats and water activities?

Watercraft officials doubt it, but they do stress that we must efficiently use each acre to its full potential, with a high degree of safety and sensible law enforcement. With more time, money and inclination Ohioans are going to continue to go down to the beach in boats and boating will continue to be one of our fastest growing outdoor sports.

3 Midland Women Hit 600 Series

THOSE 600 SERIES rolled by women came in a bunch recently at the Riviera Lanes in Midland when three were turned in during one week. The Midland trio shown standing proudly behind their scores are left-to-right, Marge Prodonovich (601), Rose Vuckovich (600) and Sophia Trainer (603). ## Phillies, Orioles Picked For Second

Scribes Pick Cardinals, Yanks In Series Rematch

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, who couldn't beat Johnny Keane and the Cardinals in the 1964 World Series, will get another crack at St. Louis—with Keane on their side—this year.

The Yankees were voted into a record-shattering sixth straight American League pennant by a narrow margin in balloting by 266 sports writers and broadcasters in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

St. Louis received an even slimmer margin over Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

The Yankees, with Keane having replaced Yogi Berra as their manager, recorded 60 more points than Baltimore and 160 more than the Chicago White Sox. The Cardinals, now under Red Schoendienst, outpolled the Phillies by 76 points and the Reds by 91.

St. Louis, which won the 1964 pennant on the last day of the season after being selected for third in the pre-season poll, had a total of 2,189 points while Philadelphia had 2,113 and Cincinnati 2,098.

The world champions' slim triumph was built despite their having received only 40 first-place votes compared with 77 for the Phillies and 73 for the Reds, a rare disparity in the poll.

Votes were counted on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc., down to one for 10th.

The Yankees' selection was made certain by 109 first-place votes, far more than the Orioles' 67 and the White Sox' 73. New York finished with 2,400 points, Baltimore 2,340 and Chicago 2,240.

In proving the prognosticators correct last year, the Yankees won the pennant by one game over Chicago and two over Baltimore. St. Louis nosed out Philadelphia and Cincinnati by one game each.

The Mets, a perennial last-place choice, drew the most votes for any one spot—185 for 10th in the NL. The Athletics earned 179 for last in the AL.

Maris Plans Suit After Bar Brawl

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Roger Maris, acquitted of a charge he slugged a man in a bar fight last week, said he had decided to sue for more than $100,000.

"I did not swing at anybody," the New York Yankee outfielder told Municipal Court Wednesday. "I was shoved from behind and thrown against the plaintiff. That was all."

After the judge found him innocent and he rushed to a spring training game, Maris announced he was going to file a civil suit against his accuser, Jerome Modzelewski, a 25-year-old male model.

Modzelewski, who divides his time between agencies here and in Chicago, also has pressed charges against Clete Boyer, the Yankees' third baseman.

That trial is set for May 11. A bartender, Robert J. Burns, said he was trying to quiet Boyer "when the bang happened. That's when Boyer hit him (Modzelewski)."

Burns and another witness said they did not see Maris take a swing.

Modzelewski and his red-haired companion, 21-year-old Angela Della Vedova of Sudbury, Ont., testified that the rhubarb started when they were leaving Nick's Bar the night of April 1.

Modzelewski said he heard an objectionable remark — so objectionable that it was not allowed in testimony — directed at him from the ballplayers' table.

"I asked Mr. Boyer for an apology," Modzelewski said. He went on:

"Boyer said, 'let's go out and fight.'"

"I said, 'I don't want to fight. I'm here for an apology.'"

"Maris said, 'get out of here. Who do you think you are?'"

Modzelewski said the pair then "ushered me out the door" and outside "the arms of both men came flailing."

Maris said he first noticed Modzelewski as he was talking to Boyer inside the lounge.

"I looked at Clete and I could see he was getting a little mad," Maris said. He said he was pushed toward the front door and when he got outside he "tried to stop what was . . . happening."

Instead of taking a punch, Maris said he pulled one person off Modzelewski. He also denied that he said, "let's go get him."

"I think I'm big enough if I wanted to get him, I could," Maris said.

Judge Arnold Grevior dismissed the charge. "There is a reasonable doubt as to what happened," he said.

It took 11 stitches to close a cut on Modzelewski's mouth.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My problem is out of the ordinary, but nonetheless it is real.

I'm a middle-aged man in love with a middle-aged woman. Madeline and I lost our mates many years ago. She has a daughter 16 years old. My son is 17. We are both very proud of our children.

My son and Madeline's daughter have known each other for quite some time but six months ago their friendship burst into flame. They now are going steadily. My son tells me he thinks he is in love with the girl. She has told her mother she thinks she is in love with my son.

Madeline and I want to get married but we are both afraid of what might happen if these two teen-agers are allowed to live under the same roof. At the same time we don't want to wait until we have to be pushed down the aisle in wheel chairs.

What can you offer in the way of help?—NO DOUBLE WEDDING PLEASE.

Dear No Double Wedding: Your son should be graduated from high school within the year. Surely you and Madeline can postpone your marriage until the boy goes away to college. This would not entirely eliminate the problem but it would reduce the hazards considerably.

Wrong Track

Dear Ann: My husband went out occasionally with a girl before he met and married me. He did not tell me about the girl because she was from the wrong side of the tracks and he never considered her anything but a physical friend, if you know what I mean. This girl has his child. The child is now 6 years old.

My husband, being a perfect gentleman, did not try to back out of anything. When the court ordered him to pay support money for the boy he agreed.

We have a little girl of our own now and it fries me that my husband must send money every month to this back-street tramp. How long does a man have to pay for a mistake that is only half his? If he just stopped sending support money what would happen?—THE MRS.

Dear Mrs.: Your husband probably will have to pay for "his half of the mistake" for another 15 years. If he stops the payments he could go to jail.

Your lack of compassion for the mother and her child is shameful. You sound like a woman who has just had her brain washed and can't do a thing with it.

Out Of The Hat

Dear Ann: Since you are the lady with all the answers, I hope you can pull one out of your hat for me.

I'm what some people call a career girl. Others might call me an old maid. I'm 32, unmarried and have no particular desire to rush into a fifth-rate marriage (as some of my friends have done) just to prove I can get a man.

But what do I say when people ask me why I'm not married? It's incredible that reasonably intelligent people ask such a cloddish question, but they do at least once a week. I've been gritting my teeth and saying stupid things like, "Because no one will have me."

Can you come up with a squelcher that doesn't leave me looking so nebbish? Thank you.—DIXIE

Dear Dixie: Try this for size: "I'm not married because I haven't met the man who deserves to be as happy as I can make him."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self addressed envelope.

Crash Hurts Man And Boy On Route 39

A Salineville area man and youth were injured late Wednesday afternoon when a car operated by the youth veered off Route 39 on a curve near Highlandtown and overturned on its side.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Roger Lane Shook, 18, of Salineville R.D. 1 was headed east in a 1955 coach when the car went off the right side of the highway about two miles east of Route 164 at 5:30 p. m. and upset.

Shook and a passenger, Robert Allen Talbott, 28, of Salineville R.D. 1 were taken to a Salineville physician and Shook was later treated at City Hospital. Shook suffered injuries of the left arm and right thigh, and Talbott received a cut of the back of the head and chest bruises.

A 65-year-old Canton woman escaped injury when her car struck an auto on a Guilford Lake area parking lot then hit a tree after the accelerator jammed.

Officers said Cecilia Johnson backed out of the lot along County Rd. 411 and was moving forward when the pedal stuck and her 1959 sedan hit the back of a parked car owned by Norman H. Jones of Lisbon R.D. 4, then crossed the highway and hit a tree.

She was charged with failure to maintain control of her car.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A strike against the Youngstown Vindicator—now in its 232nd day—moved closer to an end early today when representatives of the non-striking stereotypers union reached tentative agreement on a new contract.

The two-year pact, which now must be ratified by the 18-member union, leaves only the janitorial employees union without a contract. Agreement followed 17 hours of bargaining.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN

'Alice' In Animation

ABC-TV has engaged the Hanna-Barbera film animating team to turn out an hour-long "Alice in Wonderland" special for next season.

The network hopes it can establish as an annual TV "classic" on the order of CBS' "Wizard of Oz" and NBC's "Peter Pan."

A major Richard Doan composer will be signed shortly to write the score for the production, including at least five original song numbers, according to network sources.

"WE EXPECT to do this exactly as if we were going about a Broadway production of 'Alice in Wonderland,'" an ABC program executive reported.

"We hope to create a contemporary classic for TV which will become an outstanding feature of the holiday season each year."

"Alice" will be booked for sometime around Thanksgiving, he disclosed.

"It will not be a children's show but entertainment for the whole family."

The production actually will utilize elements of both "Alice" and "Through the Looking Glass," another Lewis Carroll classic.

"ONE OF THE NUMBERS," the ABC official explained, "will be a nightmare ballet in the Garden of the Giant Flowers."

William Hanna and Joseph Barbera are the Hollywood animators who have grown rich and famous on such TV series as "The Flintstones," "The Jetsons," "Jonny Quest," "Top Cat" and "Yogi Bear."

Some of the characters from these shows will turn up in the "Alice" special. For instance, Fred Flintstone and his neighbor, Barney Rubble, will be the front and rear of the Blue Caterpillar. Yogi Bear will play the Mad Hatter and Huckleberry Hound the footman.

EVERY ONCE in a while, for some unaccountable reason, television breaks out of its humdrum and comes refreshingly alive with a string of extracurricular entertainments and non-fiction specials of the sort viewers might talk about the next day.

A period of this kind is on this week.

Sunday brought "The General" documentary on ABC, Monday the Oscar awards on ABC and a "CBS Reports" on abortion, Tuesday a "white paper" on U.S. crime via NBC, Wednesday a portrayal of Florence Nightingale by Julie Harris on NBC.

For the rest of the week:

HERE'S HOW PLYMOUTH'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

Junior Editors Quiz on 20TH CENTURY

QUESTION: Did the 20th century start January 1, 1900, or January 1, 1901?

ANSWER: To understand the final answer when we give it, let's go back to the first century (picture, upper left.) It's easy to understand that our counting starts January 1, of the year 1, A.D. The word "century" means 100, and as we usually use it, it refers to 100 years. To make a full hundred years in this first century, you must go to the year 100 and include all of it, down on the next day; but since you've used up the year 100, you must start with 101 A.D. as the beginning of the second century. Continuing on through the years we come to the 19th century, lower left. Since it started in 1801, to get the full 100 years of a century it will have to last until December 31, 1900. The day after this is the day the 20th century starts, and this has to be January 1, 1901, which is the answer to the question. You may wonder who the little character with the forked helmet is at the end of this century, on December 31, 2000 A.D. Our artist said this is quite a long way off, and a lot will have happened. Moon travel will probably be quite a regular occurrence. Our artist didn't know what the well dressed moon-goer will be wearing in the year 2000, but he had fun making a guess.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look ahead and try to figure out the appearance of our world in 2000 A.D. Draw your idea of a car of that time, also a house. What will boys' and girls' clothes be like?

Plans Advanced On 'Police Week'

A committee of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge, meeting Wednesday night at City Hall, moved ahead with plans for the local observance of National Police Week May 9-15.

Store window displays will be arranged to help explain the department's work and Mayor Merrill D. Hall will issue a proclamation calling attention to the observance. The annual policemen's benefit dance may be held during the week.

Posters will be displayed explaining the observance. The annual observance of Police Officers' Memorial Day will be held May 15 at City Hall. It is a tribute to law enforcement officers who have lost their lives in line of duty.

Patrolmen Jack Walsh and

Samuel E. Hayes head the committee for the observance.
